SNOHOMISH HIGH SCHOOL

Snohomish, Washington

Volume XVII

Forward

A year - or a century. In either event the historian makes an authentic record of all that has happened. So, too, the yearbook registers each succeeding event as it occurs, thus building step by step a record for posterity.

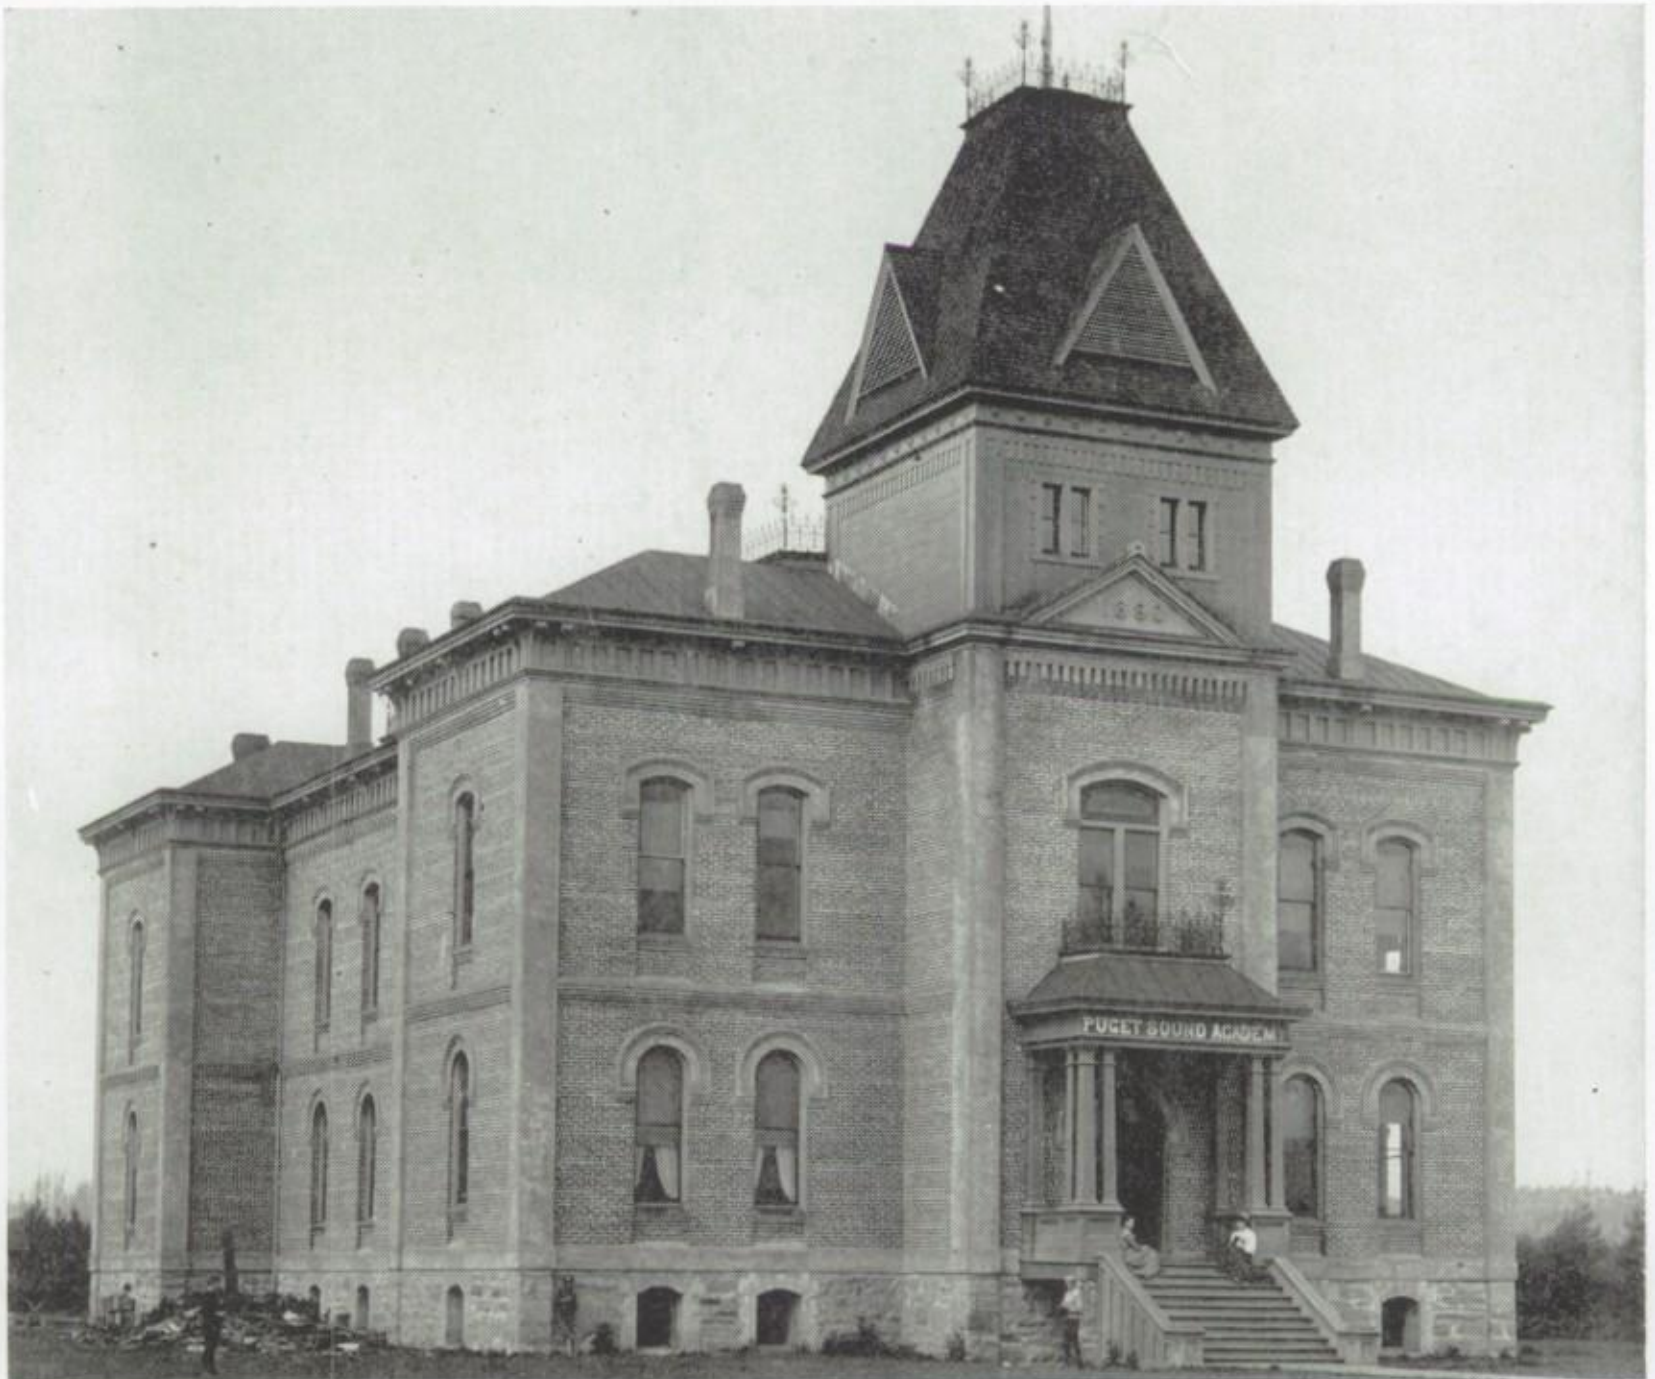

This year, in recognition of the one-hundredth birthday of the City of Snohomish, the Kla-Ta-Wa staff has adopted the Centennial idea as the theme of its 1959 edition. Thus we shall portray not only what has happened in the past school year, but we shall present some facts of the Centennial observance that is occurring in our home town.

A tracing back through history reveals that Snohomish originated in 1859, hence this year's Centennial Celebration. It became the county seat, established a newspaper, and went through a period of prosperous growth in the late 1800's. Even the influence of the Klondike fever was felt when, between 1897 and 1900, over three hundred townspeople headed for the Yukon.

Paralleling the city's development, the school system grew from its original session held in the parlor of Mrs. Sinclair into its present dimensions. First known as District 1, it eventually became District 201 through increase in population and additions from adjoining areas.

Just as a centennial celebration not only marks the close of a period of history, and opens vistas looking to the future, so this year's Kla-Ta-Wa has recorded the main events and activities at Snohomish High, thus forming another link in the historical annals of our school; but it does not stop there - it, too, looks ahead and envisions what the future holds for succeeding generations of SHS students. Therefore, we, the yearbook staff, present this 1959 edition of the Kla-Ta-Wa: a record of what has happened during a wonderful year - and a prelude of events to come.

Great White Fathers

Difficult as it is to imagine what Snohomish must have been one hundred years ago, it becomes even more of a problem when we attempt to look into the future.

Yet each one of you will have an opportunity to contribute to that future. What it becomes is going to be conditioned by attitudes, the habits and the way of life that your generation is developing today.

If you are willing to make the necessary sacrifices to prepare yourselves adequately, and accept the responsibilities that should accompany that preparation, then the changes could exceed our wildest expectations.

G. A. MOORE

You are lucky young people. Compare your lot with that of a teen-ager one hundred years ago. Radio, television, and jet planes were undreamed of. Your future is bright. You will see greater changes in the next twenty years than occurred in the past hundred.

But let's not think of material things alone. Certain principles remain constant. Honesty, integrity, love of country, God and fellow-man will be just as important one hundred years from now as they are today and as they were one hundred years ago.

Remember that even in these days of scientific wonders, man still tells time by the sun and stars.

HAROLD B. MOE

Our country was established as the result of the vision and courage of our early pioneers. All of the past history of our country has been written by men of vision and courage. The future history of our country will also be written by men of vision and courage who will take advantage of the opportunities made available to them.

Many of you will be taking part in our centennial celebration this year honoring the people who founded our community. Everyone of you will contribute to the progress we make in the next century. Your contributions will depend on your taking advantage of the opportunities which are afforded everyone in our free society.

SCHOOL BOARD

Since the beginning of time, man looked up to certain people for leadership. These people saw to it that things were run smoothly and for the good of everyone. At Snohomish High School, the leadership of the school system has been vested mainly in a body called the Board of Education. Being a member requires a great deal of time and effort, both of which have been given freely by our board members this year. These citizens have given up much of their free time to study, do research, meet, keep records, and make decisions that are important to all of us. Theirs is a hard job but one that is very rewarding for they know that their work will aid in the education of hundreds of young men and women who will tomorrow be the leaders of the world. Many times we take things for granted and fail to express our thanks for a job well done.

We do appreciate what the board has done for us and use this method to say "Thank You."

OFFICE STAFF

Friendliness, efficiency, and helpfulness seemed to be the guiding words for our office staff this past year. Whenever any of us had any problems such as changing our schedules, or being late to class, they were always there, cheerfully ready and willing to help.

They were the ones who were given the responsibility of seeing to it that the Snohomish school system was kept in good working order. They did such things as writing business letters, keeping many different kinds of records, and doing any tasks that were necessary. No matter what time of day you might have entered the office, you would have found the office staff busily at work, but ready to leave their work if they could help you in any way.

FIRST SEMESTER STUDENT COUNCIL

As in previous years, the students of S.H.S. began the year with a student council meeting. Jerry Marsh, ASB president, called the meeting to order and got things rolling by appointing the following committees and their chairmen for the first semester:

Budget Committee

Darlene Howell — Chairman
Jeanne Kuhlman
Allan McElhaney

Constitution Committee

Howard Babcock — Chairman
Diana Soderland
Morgan Davis

Charter Committee

Alan Troupe — Chairman
Barbara Dubuque
Pat Doll

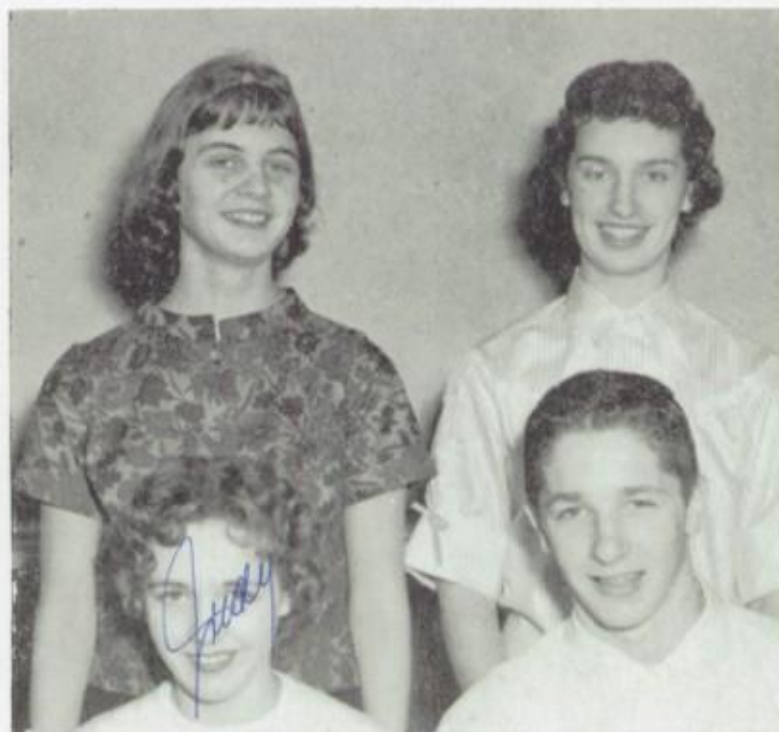

Assemblies Committee

Sandy deSoto — Chairman
Leo Mercurief
Sharryn Walker

The council then accepted the resignation of Jim Dorsey as vice-president and accepted the appointment of Sandy deSoto who was runner-up in the vice-presidential election the previous spring.

Judy Cochran, ASB secretary, was kept busy with pen in hand writing up the minutes for each meeting. In these meetings such things as the activity sign, the constitution, the mascot, and other extra-curricular events and projects were brought up. The activity sign was a newly discussed item at our school this year. It was decided to order the glass sign costing $1,285.59 complete with the words Snohomish High School written in neon across the top of the sign. This sign will announce coming events in the school each week. Another new project covered by the council was that of the snow-cone machine. It was used throughout football season and proved to be a profitable undertaking for the organization in charge of each concession. The committee appointed to be in charge of the snow-cones consisted of Sharryn Walker, Bonnie Hendrickson, Mary Skipley, and Wendy Lamson. Polio night and exchange assemblies were also under discussion by the council and were voted to be continued. Mr. Moe talked all these things over with the students and was very cooperative with them and their ideas for a better school. The representatives in the council have participated to a great extent in the solving of such difficulties which arose in school as the seating arrangement in the cheering section in the gym, the grass lot in front of the old gym, and the parking problem around the school.

SECOND SEMESTER STUDENT COUNCIL

On July 9, 1860, the town of Snohomish held its first election. Seventeen votes were cast in this election. The present day equivalent to this in Snohomish High School is the student council. It is here where the twenty-six voting members meet, vote, and decide what they think is best for Snohomish High School.

The people who were placed on the various committees during the second semester were as follows:

Budget Committee

Darlene Howell — chairman
Jo Ann Laz
Dennis Fransson

Constitution committee

Howard Babcock — chairman
Gary Kager
Kaye Bozett

A. S. B. OFFICERS—Top Row: Al Troupe, Jim Dorsey. Front Row: Glenna Johnson, Darlene Howell.

Charter committee

Leonard Bluhm — chairman
Bob Banks
Judy Ashcraft

Assemblies committee

Allan Troupe — chairman
Bonnie Hendrickson
Nancy Butler

During the second semester the student council accomplished many tasks. They arranged for the flags in the gymnasium and in the auditorium to be cleaned. They published the student telephone books which were sold for twenty-five cents each, and they debated on whether to charge an extra twenty-five cents at the fall registration for phone books. They decided that the students could pay for their books then, but they would not be required to do so. Another item on which they spent some time was the seating arrangement in the auditorium during assemblies. On this topic they decided to reserve the nine rows directly in front of the stage for the seniors, and to reserve the two rows near the windows and the three rows near the hall for the juniors. Finally it was decided that the stage curtains, which have been spot cleaned several times, would be sent to a cleaning company during the summer.

Our Student Council also had a representative to the Student Leadership conference at Everett Junior College. The council members have many other responsibilities besides merely attending the meetings. Their main duty is to represent the students in the council and to inform them of everything that takes place in the council meetings. It is up to them to promote school spirit and pride in the school.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Around the turn of the century, when Snohomish High School was witnessing its beginning, the subjects offered were limited. A large number of boys took manual training which included an hour and a half of wood shop each day, with two days a week devoted to mechanical drawing. Girls took domestic science where they had to make their own patterns for dresses and suits, as well as curtains, and Christmas gifts. English, Latin, biology, and mathematics were also offered.

Activities

Many of the first group to graduate from Snohomish High School belonged to the Atheneum Society, which was primarily a cultural club. Readings, recitations and debates on such subjects as, "Resolved, that suffrage should be given to women," were held. Some of the musically inclined girls belonged to the Mandolin Club, while sports-minded girls turned out for the school basketball team, which won three games out of six.

Today's Subjects

The subjects offered to students today are much more interesting, and more varied. Contemporary World Problems, a class which deals with current news affairs and their significances, and English are the only two required subjects for seniors. A large number of seniors, usually those who are going to attend college, take chemistry and higher mathematics. Some of the girls who want jobs after high school take commercial courses where such subjects as office machines, shorthand and bookkeeping are offered. Latin and Spanish are also offered and students usually take two years of foreign language in their sophomore and junior years. All of the elective subjects offered in the high school curriculum are open to seniors who wish to take them. Some of the more popular electives among seniors are choir, band, speech, lapidary, art, and consumer education.

Class Projects

Just as the churches of old Snohomish planned social hours, quilting bees, and welfare drives, so the class of '59 scheduled various events during its three years at Snohomish. The annual school Orthopedic drive provided a great deal of competition among the classes to see which could bring the most proceeds. The ambitious class of '59 came out of the struggle in second place with $97 worth of goods for the drive in their sophomore year. Dances and game concessions were other projects which the class undertook.

With a little money and a lot of work, the class of '59, as juniors, put their heads together and came up with elaborate plans for the annual junior prom. Girls staged car washes and boys worked hard at ticket selling to help insure a successful dance. The theme chosen was "Exotica," and the spectacular decorations and the full co-operation of the junior class made the prom one of the most entertaining dances of all time.

Senior Achievements

In November of '58 the senior class once again showed their enthusiasm and full co-operation in sponsoring the annual senior ball. A great deal of time was spent in working out the financial details. In spite of that, the dance was well attended.

"We Shook the Family Tree," a comedy about a girl and her "boyfriend troubles," ran two nights in November. About 250 townspeople came to see the opening night's performance, and about 340 on the second night. This is quite an increase compared to the seventy-two people who came to view the first play ever staged in Snohomish.

In the latter part of December and also during January and early February, the seniors ordered their calling cards and announcements for the quickly approaching commencement.

On May 19 the seniors staged their colorful Senior Slop Day when the unrecognizable seniors came to school incognito, depicting everything from hoboes to cavemen.

All the seniors "played hooky," with the school board's approval on May 22 for the annual senior picnic. Everyone, including the class advisers, enjoyed himself eating, swimming, boating, playing golf, tennis, riding horseback, or just plain relaxing.

"Eat, drink, and be merry," or so they say. That's exactly what the seniors did at the senior banquet on the eve of May 27.

On June 3 the prosperous, fun-loving class of '59 met for the last time to receive their diplomas and to say farewell to high school at the senior party held in Seattle after commencement. A reunion has been planned for 1969 and the results are bound to be successful, as was the graduating class.

TWELVE THINKERS

Twelve seniors maintained a 3.5 or better grade average throughout their high school years. All but two had a year or more of foreign language. Six of them at least two and a half years of math, and two had four years. Three of the top twelve took all the science courses offered, while four more had at least two years in physics, chemistry, and biology. All had credits beyond the required 34; two had ten, one nine, two eight, two six, two five, and three had four. Kaye Bozett and Charlene Nichols plan to enter the business world. Carole King and Rose Goshorn are interested in nursing, while Nancy Butler and Vivian Naff plan to major in education. Gladys Church will major in science, and Harold Hagen has chosen engineering. Linda Fortune hopes to be a singer, and Sandy de Soto plans to major in art. Donnella King and Kathleen Place are planning on attending college, but both are undecided as to the college of their choice.

JUNIOR CLASS '58 - '59

At the turn of the century the responsibility for publishing a school annual rested on the shoulders of the junior class. They no longer publish the annual, but their main project is sponsoring a spring formal. In an effort to produce the best prom possible, the juniors started to build up their treasury early. They sponsored two after-game dances and one concession and sold booster buttons before several of the basketball games.

Government, history, and English were required subjects for all juniors. Highlighting government classes was an all day trip to the State Legislature early in February.

1958-59 was an excellent year in sports at Snohomish, and many juniors showed their ability in football and basketball by holding positions on the starting teams.

The Snohomish pep squad was alive with juniors. There were seven cheering our team to victory during football season and four during basketball.

Many of the class members were active in F.H.A., F.F.A., the drill team, Honor Society, and L.K.E. They also held major offices in Girls' Club and Student Council.

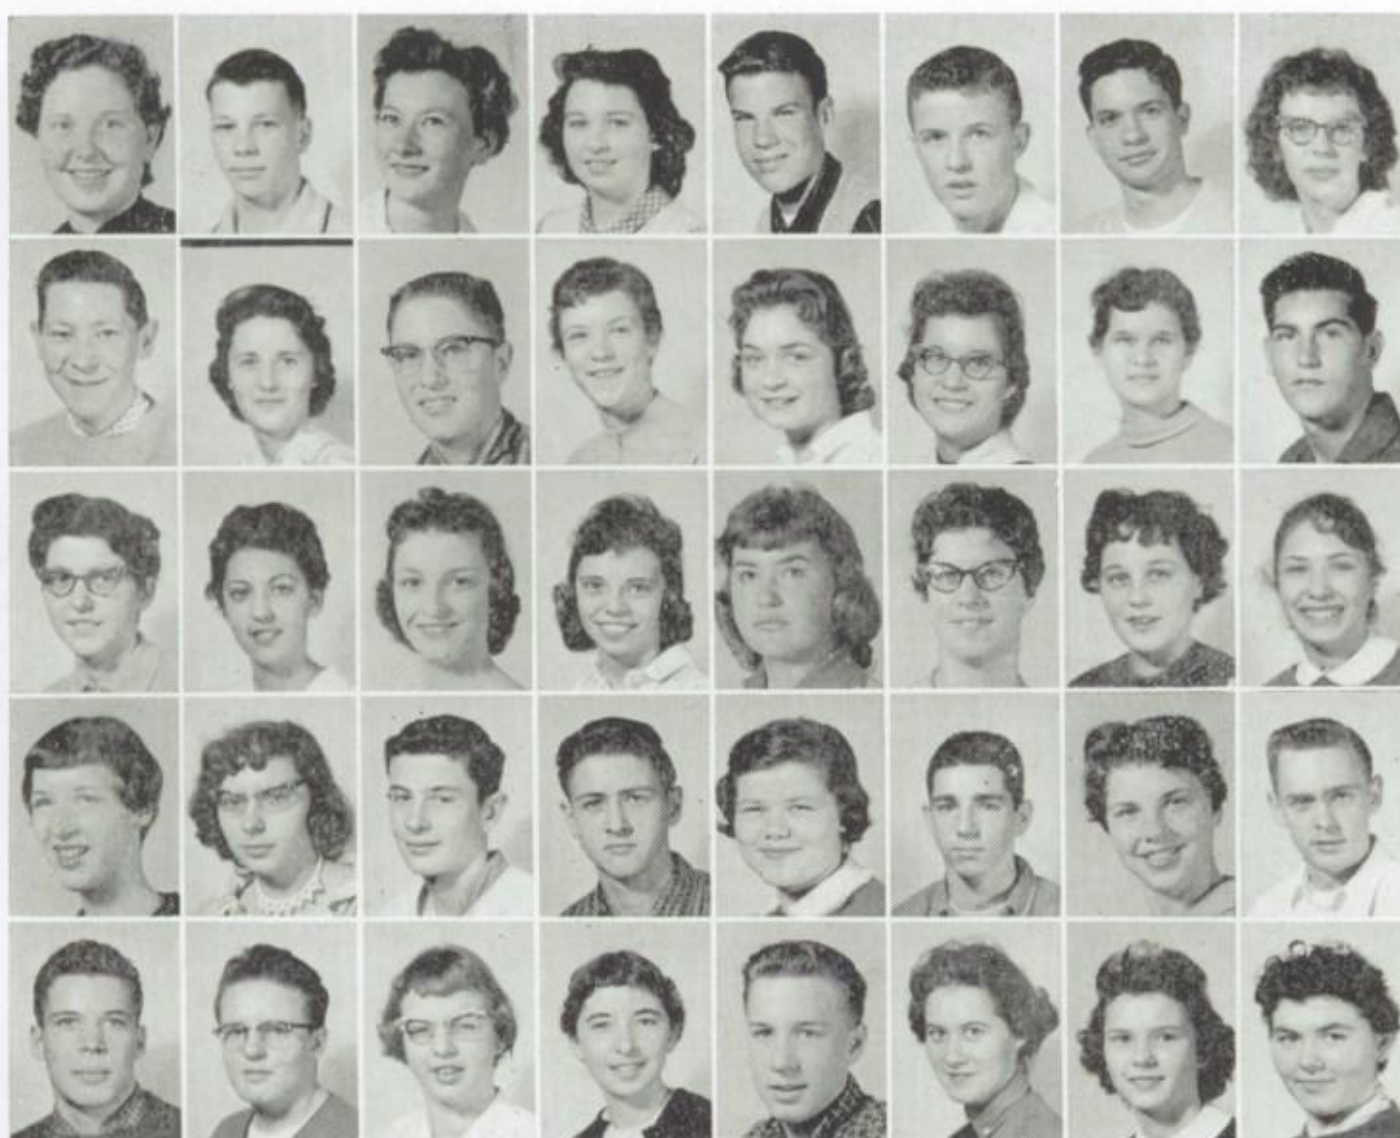

May 8 was selected for the Junior Prom, and many active students had been preparing for the dance all year. The enthusiastic dance committees worked hard and the formal affair was a huge success.

After performing their annual duty of ushering for commencement, the class of '60 ended another happy and successful year at S.H.S.

The cane rush contest was the main event of their sophomore year for the class of 1911. However, the class of '61 was very busy this year.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Condell, a class adviser, this year's sophomores held their first class meeting on September 8 and elected class officers.

The class of '61 began its money-making projects with a bang. Their first concession was during football season when Snohomish played Lake Stevens. They did very well and cleared a total of $50.89. In a second concession, during basketball season, they made $25.22. The class treasury was thus supplied with necessary funds.

The required subjects for the sophomores are: English, physical education and health, and biology or general science. Most class activities are planned in the biology classes, taught by Mr. Smith, another class adviser.

The main biology excursion was to Victoria, B. C., via the Canadian Pacific Princess Liner on May 23. Other trips were to Camano Island and to Port Defiance earlier in the year. Another big event was the biology banquet held on April 17, which featured unusual and exotic foods.

The sophomores finished their first fun-filled year of high school looking forward to the next two years with much enthusiasm.

VICTORIOUS FOOTBALL SEASON

A gunshot pierced the cold, still night air on November 7, 1958, at approximately 9:45. That shot heard 'round the town' marked the end of the final football game of the '58-'59 season for the Snohomish Panther gridmen. The Panthers came from behind to defeat the Burlington Tigers in a 21-20 upset to clinch second place in the Northwest "AA" league.

PLANNING GOOD STRATEGY: Assistant Coach Bill Heath and Coach Ralph Gunderson.

The season opened with an easy 26-6 win over Twin Cities at Stanwood. The second game gave Snohomish another outstanding victory with a 39-6 stand against Lake Stevens Vikings. Although both games were non-league, they served as great morale boosters. The Panthermen scored in every quarter of play.

THRILLING GAMES

Before one of the biggest crowds of the season, the Red and White fell in a close game against the mighty Edmonds Tigers. The Tigers wrapped up a touchdown in the fourth quarter that could not be matched, and the game ended 12-6.

The Marysville Tomahawks had too much fourth quarter offense for the Panthers. They scored twice in the final twelve minutes of action, and the final score was 20-14.

Snohomish overpowered Arlington in a 28-6 action-packed game.

The homecoming victory was thrilling. After a vigorous pep rally booster, the Red and White knocked over the Sedro-Woolley Cubs in a rough-and-tumble 19-6 game.

Anacortes gave the Panthers another victory with a 13-7 score.

ONE-POINT THRILLERS

Thanks to a successful after-score point, and a strong defense, Snohomish held the Mount Vernon Bulldogs and pulled a close 7-6 win. The last and most exciting battle of the year was fought against the Burlington Tigers when the Panthermen won their fifth in five weeks—21-20.

The Red and White scored 26 touchdowns and 17 extra points for a season's total of 173 points.

BASKETBALL

"Good spirit, close cooperation and driving determination—I'd say those three things helped the team most. They played good all season." Those were the words of Coach Bill Heath on explaining the success of his all-star basketball team, who placed second in the district tournament and won 6th place at the State finals in Seattle.

The ambitious Panthers began the season with a fast 49-25 victory over Lake Stevens here on December 5.

On December 9 the Lake Stevens Vikings were defeated there 49-34.

The Panthers met their first defeat when the Mount Vernon Bulldogs out shot them 48-45 here on December 12. The defense of the Arlington Eagles failed to hold when the locals won 54-52 on December 16 on the Snohomish court.

The Red and White traveled to Marysville to defeat the Tomahawks 52-50 in a close match on December 19.

Two Thrillers

A strong offense proved too much for traditional rivals, the Everett Seagulls when they fell 44-37 here December 23. Scoring 25 points in the second quarter, the Panthers scored a double win at Everett December 30, when the Gulls fell 61-50 in one of the season's top games.

The Seahawks of Anacortes beat the Panthers here in a fast action game on January group, the Edmonds Tigers, lost to the locals 9 with a close 34-47 score. Another rival 45-42 on their court January 16. The following night the Cubs of Sedro-Woolley lost here 51-42.

SKILLED FOR SPORTS—Mr. Gunderson, Mr. Heath.

One of the highlights of the season was Burlington game. Scoring 24 points in the 4th quarter and holding a strong defense, the Panthermen defeated the Tigers 68-66 on January 23.

The Bulldogs felt the triumphant force of locals next evening 62-51 at Mount Vernon.

Wide Margin

72-44 was the final score between Marysville and Snohomish when the Panthers scored 28 points in the 2nd quarter here January 30. The next night Arlington bowed when the all-stars won 64-56 on the Arlington court.

Anacortes' offense was good on February 6 when the home team fell 53-66 there. The following night brought a 57-50 victory for the locals here against Edmonds. Another high margin score brought the Panthers home from Sedro-Woolley February 13 with a 63-44 win.

Burlington's offense came hard and fast when the Panthermen fell 58-77 there on the 20th.

Tournament Thrills

In the district tournament the Panthers all-stars defeated the Bellingham Raiders 63-46, although Everett defeated the Panthers 51-56. In perhaps the best action game all year, the locals beat Anacortes 66-62 after tying 47-47 in the third quarter. Mount Vernon lost 47-40, and Everett lost 36-33, cinching 2nd place for the fast-action Red and Whites.

Snohomish met Renton in a grueling match March 11 and defeated them 54-49 at the AA League State tournament in Seattle. The Spokane John Rogers team lost the next night 86-80 setting a tournament record for high scoring game. Stadium of Tacoma, a fast team on rebounds beat Snohomish 74-60, and Sunnyside won March 14 by one point 57-56. This put Snohomish in the 6th place bracket of the State AA Basketball league. Len Bluhm, team captain and Coach Heath accepted the gold trophy amid the cheering throngs of enthusiastic fans.

SCRAMBLE FOR THE BALL

BOYS' CLUB BASKETBALL

Basketball is a relatively new sport having been first played in 1891. It is an entirely American game invented by Dr. James A. Naismith at the Springfield, Massachusetts YMCA Training School. His purpose in developing such a game was to provide an indoor sport that could be played between the football and baseball seasons when the weather would not permit any games to be played out of doors. The name of the game was derived from the peach baskets that were used in the first games as goals. The game of basketball spread quickly throughout the United States and eventually to many other parts of the world. However, it was not until 1934 that standard, nation-wide rules were formed. Since that time basketball has become the most widely played game in the United States, and now attracts more paid spectators than both football and baseball combined.

Almost all boys like to play basketball and the boys at Snohomish are no exception.

Those boys who were unable to play on the school basketball team found pleasure in playing against one another in boys' club. Over a hundred boys turned out for boys' club this year. At the beginning of the season the captains were chosen and then these captains chose their teams from the remaining boys. There were ten teams and approximately ten players on each team. These boys met every Monday and Tuesday night from six to about nine-thirty to play a series of twelve games each. Mr. Miles supervised these meetings and the captains of the various teams took turns officiating.

The teams placed as follows:

1. Schwartzmiller	9	2
2. Walker	8	3
3. Porter	7	4
4. Fransson	6	5
5. Skipley	6	4	1
5. Guillaume	6	4	1
6. Harkinson	5	6
7. Land	3	8
8. Troupe	2	9
8. Hetland	2	9

Walker was the high point man of the season with 18 point per game average. At the end of the season the all-star team played against the captains with the captains winning by three points.

The boys had a great deal of fun and they were often heard talking to one another about who was ahead the night before and how so and so had lost his first game of the season. It was a topic that was on every boy's mind and one that helped bring the boys of S.H.S. closer together.

BASEBALL

When the first bright days of spring appeared on the horizon, Coach John Miles began his usual pondering of baseball and just what the current season had in store.

In previous years the diamondmen traveled each afternoon down to Averill Field for their turnouts. Games were also held on that field. To save time and energy the athletic department improved and developed a portion of the upper-level playground area and used this for the new baseball diamond. Early spring rains made use of the field doubtful for a time, but it finally worked into good condition and was used throughout most of the season. The move to school territory also increased spectator attendance.

The 1959 spring schedule included the following contests:

March	31	Bothell there

TENNIS

Tennis in old Snohomish was played on lawns of private homes, churches or playfields. Although it is a fairly new sport, it is now played on paved courts and at a much faster pace. Whereas it was once a game of leisure and relaxation, it is now a game of speed and skill.

Snohomish entered its second year of play in the Northwest league. Last year the Panther tennis team won first place in the league. Since there were no returning lettermen this year, Coach Joe Clayton had to form all his teams from "greenhorns." The teams consisted of mostly sophomores and juniors on the doubles, with a few seniors and juniors on the singles.

The first turnout was held on March 16 on the new lower courts. Many students acted as "sidewalk coaches" and spectators as they waited after school for their busses. Fast action was seen as the boys who were hoping to make the team practiced their serves, slices, and lobs. Coach Clayton matched and rematched the players until the final teams were chosen. Those with the most promise were given individual coaching as the teams prepared for the busy tennis season.

The schedule included:

April	9—Arlington - there
April	14—Edmonds - there
April	21—Marysville - here
April	24—Edmonds - here
April	28—Burlington - there
May	1—Mount Vernon - here

TRACK

In former times track at Snohomish meant foot races. On the annual 4th of July Celebrations held years ago, the most popular event was the 100 yard dash.

Today track includes running, discus throwing, broad jumping, pole vaulting, shot-putting, javelin throwing, and hurdle jumping. Once again Coach Keith Gilbertson and Neal Bartlett produced another fine team, even though they had to wait until March 16 for the first turnout.

One of the thrilling things about turning out for track is the possibility of winning at more than one event. The fully equipped track field provided a chance for every team member to find and develop his specialty. Ten returning lettermen and the new recruits worked hard during the two week training period to prepare for the first meet. The strongest event in their favor seemed to be the middle distance run, which later brought them victories in league meets. The close cooperation between the coaches and the team plus many hours of constant practice and hard work made the 1959 track season for Snohomish another success.

The schedule was as follows:

March	31—Sno-King Relays, Shoreline
April	4—Moses Lake Relays, Moses Lake
April	10—Shoreline Olympics, Shoreline
April	15—Invitational, Edmonds
April	18—N. W. Wash. Relay, Sedro-Woolley

CROSS COUNTRY

Similar to cross country runs today were the many races out to the old bicycle tree outside of Snohomish. Those races were held periodically for several years after 1872.

Coach Keith Gilbertson helped this year's team through its twelve meets very capably. There were seven returning lettermen and a few new runners who started training as soon as school opened. Practice runs for turnouts included several laps around the track on the lower football field and runs around the school campus. On stormy nights the boys often exercised in the gym. During warmups the squad did a series of stretching exercises, and many times the workouts ended with the squad, as a group, trying to accomplish a difficult series of calisthenics that were designed to increase their endurance. After the proper warm-up habits and techniques were learned, the team began a program of interval running in which "challenges" were staged. One runner was given a two- or three-yard lead over the rest of the squad, and it was up to him to keep ahead and endure the pressure applied by the squad. The distance of the challenges varied from 50-180 yards, so that each squad member had a chance to be lead runner, with coaching emphasis placed on each individual.

With the extensive training program to prepare them, the team fared well in their meets with Bellingham, Everett, Seattle, Mt. Vernon, and Sedro-Woolley. The Pacific Northwest Junior AAU championship was held here October 25, and Dick Roetcisoender, representing Snohomish, placed third. He later received a trophy for outstanding achievement.

GOLF

Golf is a relatively new activity at Snohomish High School. It was started only three years ago by its present adviser, Mr. Ron Lamkin. The purpose of this activity is to teach the students more about the game. The students learn better methods of stroking and putting, better stances for stroking, correct etiquette, and other things that might be of use to them on a golf course.

The students thoroughly enjoyed the many trips out into the beautiful spring weather to practice. They also became better persons for the experiences that they shared in this activity.

The match results for the spring of 1958 were:

Snohomish 2	Marysville 13
Snohomish 3½	Marysville 13
Snohomish 1	Everett 4

GYMNASTICS

In the early history of Snohomish, the main way for exercising one's body was by working on farms. Now that many people live in towns, where there is no farm work to do they must find another way. This way was provided by the gymnastic activity.

The people who participated in this activity were placed in groups which were regularly rotated so as to allow each to become acquainted with each of the various pieces of equipment used. Each participant's purpose was to attempt to improve himself as much as possible.

Some of the equipment used during this year's activity was as follows: the rings, trampoline, horizontal bar, weights, horse, parallel bars, and the ropes.

Some of the skills that were taught were as follows: swinging and still dips on the parallel bars, front and back pullover on the horizontal bar, single and double knee cut-aways on the rings, and front and back flips on the trampoline.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

To become a member of Lettermen's Club, a boy must have earned a letter in one of the many sports offered at S.H.S. New members this year had an informal initiation and then were required to do some constructive project for the school. These boys were in charge at the junior high and grade school basketball games. They printed and sold football and basketball programs, sponsored several dances, and served as ushers at the spring concert. This year the Letterman's Club raised enough money to send a boy to Boys' State. Officers for the year were: Board of Directors—Jim Dorsey, Johnny Porter, and Bill Johnson; and Secretary-Treasurer—Dan Williams.

"S" CLUB

One hundred years ago, girls' sports were not very popular among the young ladies. Through the years, interest in girls' sports has grown and today nearly every girl has played basketball, baseball, tennis or some other similar game.

Today at S.H.S. we have G.A.A. turnouts as well as regular girls' P.E. Those girls who work very hard and earn 1,000 points from G.A.A. turnouts are entitled to become members of "S" Club. Our "S" Club has been very active this year. The first big event on the calendar was the initiation of new members in early December. After the gaiety and excitement of the initiation, the girls settled down to more serious business. They showed their abilities as cooks when they prepared a delicious dinner for a meeting of the principals and women P.E. teachers from all the schools in the county held here in December.

Other activities were concessions, swim parties, and a week-end camping trip.

G.A.A.

The major sport in Snohomish a century ago was cycling. Women in bloomers riding down the street were not an uncommon sight for cycling was not only good exercise but also a fine means of transportation.

Girls' sports have advanced a long way since that time and today the girls at S.H.S. enjoy a wide variety of sports. Among these are speedball, basketball, badminton, tennis, and softball. Our G.A.A. adviser, Miss Linda Neklason, introduced a new sport this year called field hockey. She also added a new touch to the old sport of basketball. Star players were chosen from each of the girls' teams, then these students played the women teachers. It was an exciting game with the teachers beating the students. Highpoint woman for the teachers turned out to be Miss Doyle, an English teacher.

During the course of the year, several play days were held at the various schools which belong to the G.A.A. organization. At these play days girls from all over Snohomish county get together for a day of sports and fun. This program allows the girls to become better acquainted with the girls from other schools and lets members see what they are doing in sports.

Ladies Aid Society

GIRLS' CLUB

Many of the women of old Snohomish, when they weren't busy with their daily homemaking chores, attended meetings of the Atheneum Society, their church social clubs, or neighborly "quilting bees."

Somewhat similar to the various clubs mentioned is the present Girls' Club which works for the benefit of the school and community. September 17 marked the day of the first meeting where plans were laid for two added features for the regular program. These were the selection of a girl of the month and a club newspaper. A committee was organized to bring in names of candidates to be voted on by the Girls' Club council to determine the top three. The final choice was made by the faculty. Each girl of the month was presented with a gold pennant inscribed with her title, and she also received a feature story in the school paper, and her picture in the town news publication. "Chic Chat" was the name chosen by the council for the monthly Girls' Club paper. A party for the new girls was held and they were presented with corsages. Another renewed custom was the observance of school colors by wearing red and white clothes on specific days for Girls' Club occasions.

Members of the student body contributed food, money and clothing for very successful Thanksgiving baskets which were given to two very needy families. The drive was so successful that another basket was given away at Christmas.

CHRISTMAS TIME

A Christmas tea was held for the faculty in December. A college tea was also given when former members of the Girls' Club were invited to tell of their college experiences. A large group of first, second and third graders from Emerson Elementary School presented a Christmas song pageant and acted out the Nativity. Candy canes were given to them after the program.

Among the regular programs held for the Girls' Club were such features as talks by an airline stewardess and a representative from the nursing field, and a fashion show presented by a professional modeling school from Everett.

Dad's Night was held on the eve of March 8 in the auditorium. An oriental theme was featured throughout the special program held for the dads who were present. Refreshments were served later in the cafeteria.

SPRING FROLICS

A special fashion show was held on March 20. Members of the girls' club had a review of the coming spring fashions. The whole program was directed, staged and presented by girls within the school. Music and special lighting enhanced the presentation and it was such a success that it will probably become an annual event.

One of the most important dances of the year is the annual Girls' Club tolo which is held each year in the spring. April 3 marked the occasion for this year. All of the committees worked diligently and made this a very successful dance.

The mother and daughter tea was held the first of May. At this time the girls honored their mothers with an appropriate program and tea. One interesting feature of the afternoon was the announcement of the officers elected for the coming year. The installation of these officers marked the conclusion of another pleasant year under the guidance of their adviser, Mrs. Purdy.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

According to the book History and Government of Snohomish County, "The first county fair was held in Snohomish City in the autumn of 1874 under the sponsorship of the Snohomish Atheneum Society. Fruit, vegetables, dairy products, dressed meats, livestock, and needlework were exhibited. By the time the third one was held in 1876, prizes were given for grains, fruits, vegetables, flowers, poultry, wines, and stock." Now there are many such fairs in this area in which the FFA members participate.

Highlighting this year's FFA schedule were the numerous livestock judging trips which were attended by the Snohomish FFA judging team. This team consisted of Bill Kelly, Barry Gustafson, Tom McAlister, Donald McCrorey, Steve Pollack, Bert Steele, and Dick Anderson. The first event that this group attended was the Mount Vernon Fair in which they placed sixth. Following this, they attended the Lynden Fair where they took fourth place, the Pacific National Exposition at Vancouver, British Columbia, where they placed seventh, the Evergreen State Fair in which they took sixth place, the Puyallup Fair where they placed third, and the Carnation Farms Contest in which they took eleventh place.

Some other contests that they entered were the poultry judging division of the Evergreen State Fair, the Western Washington Junior Poultry Show at Puyallup, three crop contests at Auburn, Monroe, and Bellingham respectively, the Animal Husbandry Contest at Auburn, and the Snohomish County Fryer Contest at Snohomish.

Even with their busy schedule the members of the FFA found time to devote some of their energy toward the good of the community. Some of these projects were an irrigation pipe trailer, some mailbox posts, a van for the FFA pickup, and a bumper for the same pickup. The boys who worked on these projects were Bert Steele, Donald McCrorey, John Porter, Steve Pollack, John Lorentzen, Karl Lauterbach, Jon Marshall, and Dan Thomsen.

This year the local future farmers held three different initiations. The first of these initiations, which was informal, was held on November 3, 1958. After this came the formal greenhand initiation on November 10, 1958.

Dairymen

Finally on November 25, 1958, the chapter farmers received a formal initiation.

The FFA officers for this year were: Steve Pollack, president; Donald McCrorey, vice-president; Tom McAlister, secretary; Dick Anderson, treasurer; Bill Kelly, reporter; Barry Gustafson, sentinel; and Judy Cochran, chapter sweetheart.

This year's parliamentary procedure team, which consisted of Steve Pollack, Tom McAlister, Bert Steele, Dick Anderson, Ethan Allen, and Bill Kelly, placed third in the county. On February 11, 1959, the team traveled to Buckley, Washington, for their contest. They held two practice contests with Monroe. A demonstration was given to the local Kiwanis club.

In the public speaking department, Melvin Hansen took second place in the county in his first contest. In the second contest he appeared before the Bellingham Chamber of Commerce. Wesley Marson was also entered in the County Public Speaking Contest.

In the entertainment section, the FFA held various social activities this year. On April 10, 1959, they held the Spring Dance. Following this was the annual banquet on April 29, 1959, where numerous awards were given. Then came the yearly Spring Show on May 15, 1959.

Three of the members of the local chapter entered applications for state farmer. These three were Barry Gustafson, Bill Kelly, and Dick Anderson. One of these, Barry Gustafson, was also one of the top three scholars on the FFA scholarship ladder. The other two were Dan Bartelheimer and Greg Gustafson. All the members of the Snohomish chapter of FFA were represented on this scholarship ladder.

During October of 1958 the National FFA Convention as held in Kansas City, Missouri. Attending this convention were Donald McCrorey and Melvin Hansen. Melvin Hansen was also selected to play his french horn in the National FFA Band. The Washington State FFA Convention as held April 1-4, 1959, at Pullman, Washington. This convention was attended by Barry Gustafson, who was our chapter delegate.

LAMBDA KAI EPSILON

Lambda Kai Epsilon was started as a club for Latin students and was called the Latin Club. Later a club was started for the Spanish students and was called the Spanish Club. These clubs were formed by Miss Hurd, then the language instructor. In the beginning of the school year of 1947 the two clubs chose to unite into one club and they chose as their name, Lambda Kai Epsilon. This name was taken from the Greek Letters "L" and "E" and the Greek word "Kai" meaning "and" for a title meaning Latin and Spanish.

The purpose of Lambda Kai Epsilon is to create an interest in the students of this club in the study of the other countries of the world by the use of movies and speakers.

At the first meeting of the school year, election of officers was held and those elected were: President, Bob Ashcraft; Vice President, Jo Anne Laz; Secretary for the first semester, Judy Rainwater; Secretary for the second semester, Sharon Lee Ferguson; Treasurer, Glenna Johnson; Program Chairman, Ellen Ward.

As one activity Mr. S. K. Lee of South Korea, who was attending the University of Washington, spoke about Korea.

Another activity was a movie sponsored at Brown's Theater. This was a French movie and entitled Ferdinand The Dressmaker.

This year the annual Lambda Kai Epsilon Banquet was held on March 10. The guest speaker on this occasion was Gael Satya of India, who was attending the University of Washington. He spoke on India and its progress since it was given its independence. He also spoke on the origins of India's religions, customs and people.

HONOR SOCIETY

In celebrating our centennial, we are also celebrating a hundred years of progress. This progress was made possible by the hard work of leaders, inventors, and most of all by scholars.

Honor society members know that they will become part of the next century's centennial and thus be responsible for the progress made in the next hundred years. Because of this large responsibility that will be theirs before long, these students are preparing themselves to meet the world in the best form possible.

The theme for the annual Honor Society banquet was very appropriately "Leaders of Tomorrow." Student speakers were Pat Colwell who spoke on "Women of Tomorrow" and Leo Merculief on "Men of Tomorrow." Mr. Hedlund gave a speech on the responsibility that the men and women of tomorrow will have to share. They were entertained by Linda Fortune who sang "At the End" and "High and the Mighty." Then the seniors began the initiation of the juniors. There were approximately thirty new junior members and, they had to do all kinds of things from singing praises to the seniors to shaving with whipping cream. After the initiation, Mr. Moe presented pins to members of both classes. The banquet ended traditionally with the juniors cleaning up. Committee chairman for the banquet were: general chairman, Nancy Butler; initiation, Glenna Johnson; programs, Mary Drennon; and servers, sophomore girls.

Officers for the year were: Nancy Butler, president; Leo Merculief, vice-president; Gladys Church, secretary-treasurer; and advisers, Miss Doyle and Miss Egner.

ANNUAL STAFF

At one time the Snohomish High School annual was called the "Junior Enterprise," and it was written and published by the junior class. Today the yearbook is called the "Kla Ta Wa," and it is published by a group of hard working students including sophomores, juniors, and seniors. The annual staff met during activity period every day although there were a few students who also worked fourth period for credit.

Financing an annual isn't an easy task, and the staff and their adviser, Miss Fowler worked hard to build the treasury. Senior calling cards, announcements, annuals and bags of pop corn were sold by the staff during lunch hours. They also worked hard sponsoring three after-game dances, and selling hot dogs, pop corn, ice cream and coffee to the spectators during the football and basketball seasons.

To gain a little background on producing an annual, Miss Fowler took six staff members as representatives to the Northwest Annual conference held at the University of Washington. They spent an entire Saturday attending lectures on various phases of year-book publication. The information brought back proved very useful.

Having the initial plan determined, the annual staff, with the appreciated help of Snohomish Crown Studio, set to work taking and mounting pictures for the printer. Manuscripts were planned, written, corrected and typed for printing at the local Tribune office in Snohomish. When the printed pictures and write-ups were returned they were proof-read, corrected and pasted in a printers' dummy, which was in accordance with the original annual lay out. The finished printings were then sent to the binders and returned as Kla Ta Wa.

As a final tribute for the long hours of hard work, a pot luck dinner for the staff was planned after work on the annual was completed. The cooperation of the group showed its results in this finished product. Congratulations annual staff of 1959!

THE ARROWHEAD

In the early 1900's there was no Arrowhead as it is known today. At that time the only publication at Snohomish High School was called The Enterprise. This was the Arrowhead, Kla-Ta-Wa, and Beginner's Luck all neatly published under one cover. In reality it was more of a literary magazine with stories, essays, poems, and short news items included. After a number of years publication of The Enterprise was abandoned and Snohomish High was without any school paper for some time.

Finally, feeling the need for such a publication, the students and faculty got together in 1924 and selected the commercial teacher, Miss Ada Seabury, to start a regular newspaper. Since the staff did not want to continue using the name Enterprise, they sponsored a "name the newspaper" contest. A boy, whose name is unknown because of lost records, was walking across what is now the old football field when he happened to kick up an old arrowhead. Inspiration struck! Since Snohomish is derived from an Indian name, he decided that an Indian word for the newspaper would be appropriate. He submitted The Arrowhead as his entry, and his idea has been a symbol of the school ever since.

During World War II publishing of the paper was discontinued because of the lack of newsprint. Miss Mildred Blossey, current adviser, undertook a mimeographed edition in 1945; and when newsprint was again available in 1946, The Arrowhead in its present form began publication. Since then it has been appearing regularly.

ARROWHEAD SNAP: Barbara Dubuque, Howard Babcock, Carol Graff, Anne Waltz.

The present staff not only concerns itself with readying the news for the bi-weekly editions, but also engages in numerous other activities. Publicity for homecoming was carried on almost entirely through this medium, releases being given out through Everett and Seattle radio stations, and in local papers. News stories of other high school events are often sent to various daily papers and regularly to the Snohomish Tribune.

On February 21, Arrowhead staff members Carol Graff, Barbara Dubuque, Richard Arp, Howard Babcock and Miss Blossey went to the University of Washington campus to represent Snohomish at the Pacific Slope School Press Clinic. At the conference, the largest event of its kind west of the Mississippi River, the group attended sessions on the various aspects of how to publish a good school newspaper.

BEGINNERS LUCK

Beginner's Luck, Snohomish High's creative magazine, gives the students a chance to put their writing into print. It was started in 1946 and is published every spring.

Under the direction of Mrs. Greenwood, the staff has a difficult job of selecting the narratives, poems, limericks, essays, character sketches, and book reviews.

The officers are: Susan Johnson, editor; Betty Cotter, secretary; Pat Arnett, treasurer.

During the year they have done various activities, as their trip to the Penthouse Theater in Seattle to see the play "All For Mary."

In the second semester a contest was held to see who could draw the best character named McGillicuddy. Sandy deSoto was the winner. The picture will be featured in the magazine.

Various fund raising drives were selling popcorn at basketball games and at school, a car wash, a candy sale, and an aftergame dance called "Mexican Hat Rock."

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll is an honorary society to encourage and to give recognition to hard-working students in some phase of journalism. In the Thomas F. Barnhart chapter of Snohomish, all of the members have proven their worthiness by putting forth a good deal of time and effort for the school publications.

Four members were present at the first meeting, and they voted to accept the twelve proposed new members. With the aid of the adviser, Miss Mildred Blossey, the four members planned a formal initiation which was held in the high school student center in the evening of February 24. The ideals of journalism were featured in a candlelight service, with entertainment and refreshments following. Gold pins were issued to the new members.

AERONAUTICS

Aeronautics used to be a class, but because of the increasing teaching demands upon Mr. Steve Smith, aeronautics adviser, it was changed to an activity three years ago.

Enthusiasts of this hobby met every activity period in the biology room. There they built and discussed models of airplanes and gliders. Once in a while Mr. Smith obtained military aviation films and showed them to the boys.

Since all the students engaged in this activity were sincerely interested in aviation, they frequently took a few hours on weekends to visit local airports. There they inspected various types of planes.

After Mr. Smith earned his pilot's license, he was able to take members of his activity for an occasional ride above the countryside.

FIREMEN

Many years ago, Snohomish High School had to depend upon the city fire department for protection. Now it is different. Each year at the beginning of the school term, the student council elects a fire chief who in turn chooses a group of firemen from a list of volunteers.

This last year the fire chief was Gary Dovre. He and his assistants gave much time and effort to the improvement of the methods for evacuating the school. One way in which they helped was by appointing firemen to hold the doors open to allow the students to leave the building more quickly. They also made sure that each classroom had a sign above the door giving specific instructions on how to leave the building.

HOME CRAFTS

When the first school was organized in Snohomish, the "3 r's" were the only subjects taught. As time advanced, the school system was greatly improved. Today when a girl goes to school, it is necessary for her to take a course in home economics. If she wishes, she may also take Home Crafts during activity period.

Again this year, Home Crafts proved to be a popular activity. Many girls, under the able direction of Mrs. Marvel Purdy, learned how to cook and make various articles for their future homes.

During the first semester, they had many interesting cooking sessions. Their talents produced numerous treats which were sampled by the teachers at their weekly coffee hour.

The second semester proved to be very educational. The girls learned crocheting, tatting, and improved their sewing techniques. Mrs. Edna Sayre taught many of the girls some of the advanced stitches in knitting. These stitches later became parts of very beautiful articles.

The purpose of this activity was to teach girls some of the extra skills that a future homemaker should have but which are not taught in the regular home economics course.

The girls spent many worthwhile hours putting their new skills to use.

F.H.A.

May marks the time of the election, installation, and initiation of officers of the Future Homemakers of America. F.H.A. is an organization for girls who have completed one year of Home Economics. Officers elected for the year were: president, Rosalie McAlister; vice-president, Delores St. Clair; secretary, Norma Sikel; treasurer, Julia Tucker.

Various activities kept these girls busy throughout the year. Included in these activities are the county council meetings which are held in the various schools throughout the country. Snohomish is the only county in the state with a council. Its secretary is Sharon Olofson. State rallies, leadership meetings, bake sales, and baking for the teachers' coffee hour are among the activities on these girls' schedule during the year. Car washes in the spring and concessions at the ball games help keep the treasury well balanced.

The F.H.A. girls worked for such degrees as the junior degree, chapter degree, and the state degree. They also learned the F.H.A. constitution, emblem, and colors. Some of the girls attended Demonstration Day held at Lake Stevens on February 28.

This group of girls, together with their adviser, Mrs. Condell, worked hard to promote good will and citizenship and to train the girls to become good family members.

Maintenance Men

LIBRARY

Under the watchful eye of Miss Cowden and her staff of helpful assistants, the library was again a big asset to Snohomish High. The everyday duties performed by these girls were many. They made the reminder slips which enabled many readers to return books on time, and they made a record of every book checked out and returned so as to insure less confusion and fewer fines.

Before the books could be shelved, they had to be looked over for any extra wear and tear. If any necessary repairs were required, the girls quickly and efficiently did this and returned the books to their places on the shelves.

That made up only a minor part of the duties which these girls performed everyday. They gladly answered many questions the students had and provided other information. Many students relied upon the librarians to find material for themes and show them the proper use of the Readers' Guide.

All of these activities made the library a very busy place.

Chic Chat is published for fun and to make known the activities of the Girls' Club and its members. It is the Girls' Club newspaper just started as an activity this year.

It is published monthly by several of the girls. The staff includes: Sharon Ferguson, editor; Sue Baxendale, assistant editor; Sharon Olofson, Wanda Anderson, Carol McGirk, Barbara Abernathy, Sandy Hartman, Joan Peterson, Gladys Church, Judy Yoder, Darlene Westover, Virginia Kobylyk, Jan Gobiet, Arlene Froembgen, and Kaye Bozett; reporters.

SOUND CREW

Early in the history of Snohomish County, the only way one could amplify one's voice when speaking to a crowd was to use a megaphone. Now a megaphone is no longer necessary for modern electronic equipment has taken its place. This equipment has made it possible for one to speak in a normal voice and still be clearly heard.

The boys who were responsible for the care of this equipment were called the sound crew. They saw to it that microphones, spot lights, and other similar apparatus were set up and ready for use at various assemblies, dances, and plays that were given here at school. Theirs was a job that received little recognition but one that was well done. It would not have been possible to have such fine assemblies without their aid and they should be proud to have been members of this crew.

WOODSHOP

Cabinet making and carpentry are the main subjects taught in the S.H.S. woodshop. The boys who take this course learn how to use the various kinds of hand and mechanical tools that are essential to these trades. They become acquainted with different kinds of woods and come to know which kinds of sandpapers and tools are best for finishing and refinishing these woods. The boys learn by doing and are allowed to make anything within their capabilities. They are taught how to create beautiful furniture from wood, plastics, and formica. They have much fun figuring out plans and making the various objects, but they also obtain a great deal of valuable knowledge and practical know-how. These are assets to them in later life when they own their own homes. Some of the fine products turned out this year were coffee tables, lamps, chairs, boats, bookcases, desks, and dressers. All these things would be useful to any modern family.

AUTO MECHANICS

If one has ever been out near the auto shop during activity period, one probably heard plenty of noise and what appeared to be confusion. However, auto mechanics is an organized subject. Under the very thorough supervision of Mr. John Clark, the boys in this activity were interested in learning about automobiles.

All the students in advanced auto mechanics took this as an activity. Some of the students from classes in general metals took this activity also, and they learned many things from just watching the students in advanced auto mechanics.

Many of the students from this activity had various odd jobs to do throughout the year, such as welding and repair work on the auto shop building.

The boys also learned from the class room lectures and by tearing down auto engines and rebuilding them. Occasionally, educational films were shown and these were very interesting and profitable for the boys.

PING PONG

A second, successful year was spent by those students in ping pong activity. Mr. Alan Hansen was again in charge of the group and under his leadership, everyone had an enjoyable year. The activity included returning students from last year's class along with some new ping pong enthusiasts.

Last fall, a world-famous father and son team put on an exhibition game as a national assembly. One member of the ping pong activity was given the privilege of competing against the younger visitor. They provided a very good match and the audience enjoyed it very much.

Out of the twenty-one students in ping pong, four won first place in their tournaments. Pat Guillaume won the first singles tournament, and Jerry Keene won on the last singles play. Frank Smith and Eric Gamble captured first place in the doubles.

TUMBLING

Many years ago the only means by which a person could learn to tumble was to join a circus and become an acrobat. Now Snohomish High offers an activity class for those girls who would like to learn to tumble.

Tumbling is a fairly new activity, as this is only the fourth year of its existence. Twenty-five girls under the supervision of Mrs. Overturf learned many of the basic arts of tumbling.

This year it was difficult for this group to participate in the school assemblies because many of the girls were taking tumbling for the first time.

Every activity period these girls practiced their acrobatic stunts. Many of these girls were rewarded by knowing that they had mastered these feats successfully.

CHESS

A century ago chess was a very popular pastime. This year for the first time, chess was found at Snohomish High. Eighteen boys joined the chess activity. The boys held tournaments among themselves, and their progress was shown on ladder charts. These charts soon displayed the fact that many of the boys were becoming very good chess players.

DEBATE

For the first time in several years, a debate activity has once again been formed. Each year there is a national question that debate groups all over the country use for discussion and tournaments. The topic this year was "Resolved, that elementary and secondary education in the United States should be fundamentally revised." The team did thorough research on both the negative and affirmative sides of this question. The group was under the supervision of Miss Beth Tarr.

PHOTOGRAPHY

One of the activities started this year was photography. The main objective of this class is to teach each interested student the basic rules for taking pictures.

The photography class helped the annual staff by taking some pictures for the Kla-Ta-Wa.

DANCE BAND

Music has always played an important role at Snohomish High School. Shortly after this school was organized, an excellent music teacher was acquired. Since then Snohomish has been a leader in all fields of music. Again this year Snohomish had a successful dance band which was under the direction of Mr. Peterson.

Every activity period if you were in the vicinity of the music building, you would hear modern American jazz being played by the dance band. The members spent much of their own time practicing this style of music because of its difficult but desirable beat and swing.

During the course of the year the dance band played for after-game dances and assemblies, where their performances gave the final proof that it had been a very successful year for the Snohomish High School dance band.

MELODIERS

One of the groups which grew in popularity during the year was the Melodiers. This organization was made up of a selected number of girls chosen by the groups capable director, Mr. Forbes. Under his leadership the enthusiastic Melodiers became sought-after entertainers on many occasions. Some of the places they appeared were: The Christmas Program, Polio Night, exchange assemblies, and the Spring Concert.

In addition to their singing, the Melodiers found time to sponsor an after-game dance, have concessions at basketball games, and have a car wash. All of these activities helped to provide the new outfits which the girls sported this year.

The Melodiers was composed of eighteen members this year and were very fortunate in losing only five Seniors through graduation.

Troupers

DRILL TEAM

High steppers of the Snohomish High School drill team had a very busy year. They were found performing at the Apple Blossom Festival in Wenatchee and in two Fourth of July parades, one in Everett and the other in Arlington. They marched at the Seafair Parade in Seattle and for the unique torchlight parade in the evening. Later in the summer they journeyed to Vancouver, B.C. to participate in the famous Pacific National Exhibition parade. Snohomish Pow Wow Days also saw these girls helping the local celebration.

Beginning the 1958-59 season the team was captained by Glenna Johnson with the assistance of Luanne Myllenbeck as lieutenant and Bonnie Bennett as sergeant-at-arms. Heading the agenda for the new year were try-outs for new members. Twenty-two were added to ranks, with five more being added at the semester. This made a total of twenty-seven.

Among their first fall performances were the halftime shows at three football games and two basketball games. Serving as honor guards for the queen and her court at the Homecoming game, the girls made a very striking picture.

Due to the many outside activities of the members, it was necessary to hold morning practices, most of them as early as 7 a.m. After many hours of practice, the drill team attended the ninth annual drill team conference held at Burlington on March 21.

Barn Dances

EXOTIC DANCERS

JUNIOR PROM

More than one hundred couples danced to the music of Burke Garrett and his 99ers Saturday, May 10, 1958 at the annual Junior Prom. The theme, Exotica, was carried out as a motif in decorations and program.

The small gym was converted into an exotic jungle with the false ceiling entangled with vines and wild flowers. At one end a large mural depicted a striking sunset. Across from this the band was housed in a grass shack. Pictures were taken in a large swing covered with bright jungle flowers.

During intermission, entertainment was supplied by the Exotic dancers and the Shades, a vocal group, both from Everett.

Chairmen of the dance were Pat Colwell and Jim Dorsey. Assisting them were: Nancy Butler and Barb Seese, programs; Sharon Ferguson and Dean Schwartzmiller, decorations; Glenna Johnson and Marion Olson, entertainment; Luanne Myllenbeck, pictures; Linda Fortune, tickets; Bob Shrauner and Sandy deSoto, posters; Len Bluhm and Dennis Fransson, construction; Gladys Church, punch; Carol Graff, publicity; Judy Cochran and Arlein Ulmer, music; Jerry Marsh, chaperones; and Dwight McLain and John Porter, cleanup.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Fankhauser, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Heath, and Miss Carol Moore.

SENIOR'S FORMAL AFFAIR: Miss Ruth Fowler, Mr. Maurice Hedlund, Donnell King, Les Rowe.

SWINGIN' SENIOR BALL

In 1872, an old warehouse was converted into the Riverside Hotel, a popular gathering place, especially for dances, for the pioneers of Snohomish. Located on First Street, it still stands. Today dances are held in many places for many occasions. For young people, one of the big dances is the Snohomish High School Senior Ball.

"Tara," the name of the Southern Mansion in Margaret Mitchell's Gone With the Wind, provided the name for the Senior Ball of 1958. The dance was held in the high school's small gym, on Friday night, November 14. Decorations depicted a southern mansion with a huge white porch, complete with tall pillars and marble steps. Southern pine trees and an old-fashioned rose-trimmed fountain lent the sweeping panoramic feeling of a typical Southern Garden. A professional jazz band played lively music under an old-fashioned New Orleans canopy.

Approximately eighty couples came, making a colorful picture of swirling dresses and tailored dark suits. Enjoyable entertainment featured two singers, one from Snohomish and the other one from Seattle. The ball ended at 11:30, and once again the small gym was quiet — another successful dance had ended.

HAPPY HOMECOMING!

Christmastime, 1875, marked the first festival in Snohomish. The entire population gathered at the town hall and were publicly presented gifts from loved ones.

Today one of Snohomish's big annual events is the Panther Homecoming. Queen Glenna Johnson and her princesses, Pat Colwell and Sharryn Walker, reigned over the 1958-'59 season. The coronation took place on November 15 in the school auditorium. The honor guard was the drill team, and royal music was provided by the school dance band. Queen Glenna and her royalty came sweeping down the aisle in their floor length formals, flanked by their handsome escorts. They were seated on the royal thrones and were presented with roses. They were then crowned by the previous year's Student Body President, Gary Meacham. The Everett Junior College Madrigal Choir was the special feature of the entertainment provided for Her Majesty and the court.

Seniors took the honors with their Panther sign at the annual pep rally held Friday night before the Homecoming game.

The game played against Sedro-Woolley as a victorious one for the Red and White, and made the atmosphere just right for the after-game dance held in the small gym. Clayton Knittel and his band played the royal music to the tune of "Mexican Hat Rock," thus adding to the spirit of "Fiesta," the theme of the dance. This concluded another successful homecoming.

EXCHANGE ASSEMBLIES

In the early years of Snohomish, schools did not have exchange assemblies. As the school system advanced, so did the idea of having exchange assemblies. The first Snohomish High School exchange assembly was held only a few years ago.

This year the participants for the exchange assembly were chosen from the Polio Night program. Our assembly was composed of many entertaining acts which were a variety of musical numbers, routines, and comical pantomines. Leo Merculief presided as master of ceremonies.

In February Marysville entertained Snohomish and in March Snohomish students presented Marysville High with an assembly. Each of the assemblies was considered successful by the members of both of the schools.

FOLK DANCING

When the "old grads" return to Snohomish and hear the happy sounds of lively music and stomping feet drifting across the yard, they know Mark Jarrett's folk dancing activity is in full swing.

Mr. Jarrett guided the members of his activity through the intricate steps of the folk dances from many lands, including such numbers as a Russian polka and a tango from Spain. The students also enjoyed Schottisches, waltzes and various "mixers." However, modern bopping and two-stepping were not practiced as much as they had been in the past.

Folk dancing has always been a popular activity for many reasons. Everyone improves his or her dancing ability, and it is a good way to use up excess energy. It also promotes a mingling with people one might not meet in class. The best reason, however, is this — it's a lot of fun.

PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT: Jerry Marsh, Bill Johnson.

FORMATION AT HOMECOMING GAME

BAND

Snohomish High School has had an outstanding band for many years. The band of 1958-59 has been no exception. Since it is a traveling band, and used to marching in many affairs, "get on the band wagon" has been adopted as this year's band slogan.

The band has made numerous appearances this year. The more outstanding of these have been at Homecoming, the Christmas concert, the band contest, and commencement exercises.

This has been Edward Peterson's first year as band director at Snohomish.. From the eighty-five piece band, three outstanding players have appeared: Melvin Hansen, one of the sweep-stake winners of the solo contest; Bob Knittel, runner-up; and Steve Schilling, who played in the All-Northwest Band.

CHOIR OFFICERS: Ron Ren, Bob Botten, Pam Frost.

CHOIR

Our choir has developed into an outstanding organization since its creation in 1882.

With Mr. Gordon Forbes as director, the choir has many accomplishments to its credit. Some of the more notable creations were the appearances that they made at the Lions' Club, their fine Christmas program, their singing at Easter sunrise services, and the wonderful performance they gave for the Homecoming Coronation. Along with all these activities, they still were able to produce a fine Spring Concert for an appreciative audience.

Some of the choir members showed their ability by taking honors. Susan Johnson was in the All-Northwest choir and Marvel Johnson was one of four who received solo scholarships. Everyone was included in the high ratings the choir obtained at the contest.

The Kla Ta Wa staff of 1958-1959 would like to express its thanks to those who spent many hours working to produce this edition of the Snohomish High School yearbook.

First, we thank Miss Ruth Fowler for her guidance and direction of the staff members and Miss Evelyn Doyle for her patience in correcting the copy. Our appreciation also goes to Crown and Ewing's Studios and to Mr. Walker's photography class for pictures. We are grateful to Western Engraving Co. for the engraving, the Snohomish County Tribune for the printing and Bayliss Bindery for the covers, gathering, and binding.

allens,
Good Luck and Best Wishes in your future years. If you only knew what was to become of your life ahead of time, but only one really knows. I know that as time passes you will draw nearer to Him and keep faith in Him. May He ever supply you with joy and overflowing happiness always.
Have fun in your last two years of high school. The time will pass faster than you can realize it. May God richly bless you and continue to give you guidance.

A friend,
Charlene "59"

Allen,
It's really
been a lot of fun being with you in algebra this year. I'll be taking Geometry next year and I hope you will be too.

Lots of luck and muscles
to a swell guy during the summer.
Sylvan Ann (Silver) Sherman
